Rhein-Maas-Liga Post 4/2002

Dear Go players between Rhine and Maas,

The first three rounds are completed. Köln gave up the leading position, because they lost against Yakuza Aachen, who were last. This is what I call fair play... Aachen now climbed to the second last position, handing over the last place to Tenuki Bonn. Baoming Liège is leading, but Bonn Uni and Köln are very close. We are interested how things will develop during the next three rounds.

There is one curiosity from the match Aachen vs. Köln to be mentioned: After the games at boards 1-3 had already started, Claus (1d, Köln) realized that he should play against Thierry (13k, Aachen). To avoid the high handicap, Aachen agreed to exchange Thierry for Heiko (4k). This disturbed the required ordering, but we do not mind since both parties agreed. Most likely Claus would have won against Thierry because of the reduced handicap. (There is a limit of nine stones.) But now Heiko won, hence this exchange probably cost Köln the leading position in the overall table.

Have a nice summer break,

Marcel
